Choir & Orchestra Notes

From the Director April 25th, 2012

Great job Sunday – thank you so much for being faithful. This past week, as I’ve been reading in 1 Corinthians, I’ve been keenly aware of our need for one another. In church and certainly among church musicians like you and me, it can be easy to believe that some are more important than others. Those with greater skill, or perhaps those who are perceived to be more spiritual. “On the contrary,” says Paul, “the parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, and on those parts of the body we think less honorable we bestow the greater honor...” Here’s the thing that should challenge and encourage us: it takes all of us. ~ Choir, I need to make sure we talk about our rehearsal with Steve that is currently scheduled for May 6th. We have a conflict that we’ll need to discuss. Also, I’ll have a sign up sheet for you tonight if you intend to go with us on May 20th. ~Finally, I need your help. We really need a lot of moms and daughters to sing with us on “Momisms.” Can you help me recruit? We’ll have a special rehearsal on May 9th with refreshments and doorprizes to welcome ladies for a one night rehearsal. Orchestra ladies can sing as well. I Love you all!
